

Open Your Door to Dialogue on Housing Choices

Host a “Community Conversation” in San Mateo County

In March 2008, hundreds of people gathered to discuss the future of housing in San Mateo County. They started an unprecedented public conversation about critical choices facing their communities.

In May 2008, hundreds more — who work and live in our county — have shared their viewpoints during our web-based community dialogue, Public Voices for Housing Choices.

NOW, the conversation deepens and further expands the public voice with local dialogues hosted in our neighborhoods and communities in and around San Mateo County.

SIGN UP NOW TO HOST A CONVERSATION!

Extend the dialogue into your city, neighborhood, workplace, organization, or community group in San Mateo County. Trained facilitators and toolkits will be provided — at no charge — to guide the discussion in your organization or community.

For more information, or to schedule a dialogue, contact info@threshold2009.org, or call (650) 655-5851.

What is Threshold 2009?

Threshold 2009 is a nonprofit, citizen-driven effort to engage the people of San Mateo County in decision making about housing issues. We believe that by including more people in the discussion, leaders will be in a better position to understand what decisions the informed public will support to sustain our communities. We do not advocate for any specific policy agenda or development project. We provide an inclusive forum to build the public voice on housing choices. Visit www.threshold2009.org to see the results of our 2008 initiative and to join us in our current efforts.
